On 28 April 2014, RHBIB had announced that the Board wished to vary certain salient terms of the Proposed Private Placement made on 15 April 2014 pertaining to the allocation of the Placement Shares and the interest of directors and/ or major shareholders of OCK and/ or persons connected to them. Further details of the aforesaid variation are set out in Sections 2.5 and 2.8 of this Circular.

On the other hand, on 29 April 2014, RHBIB had, on behalf of the Board, announced, amongst others, that OCKISB, a wholly-owned subsidiary company of OCK had, on 29 April 2014, entered into a conditional share sale agreement with Song Chin Yew and Lim Hooi Seeh ("collectively, the Vendors") for the proposed acquisition by OCKISB of 85% equity interest in PT Putra Mulia Telecommunication from the Vendors for a purchase consideration of RM21,250,000 ("Purchase Consideration"). The Purchase Consideration is to be fully satisfied via a combination of RM10.00 million in cash and issuance of 10,227,272 new OCK Shares at an issue price of RM1.10 per OCK Share. For the avoidance of doubt, a separate circular to shareholders on the Proposed Acquisition, amongst others, will be issued to the shareholders of OCK to convene a separate EGM in due course.

A separate resolution pertaining to the Proposed Private Placement to LTAT to seek the shareholders' approval for Section 2.5(b) above is set out in the Notice of EGM.

2.7 Status of utilisation of funds from the previous private placement

On 24 June 2013, on behalf of the Board of OCK, RHBIB had announced that the Company proposed to undertake a private placement of up to 10% of the issued and paid-up share capital of OCK to third party investors to be identified later ("Previous Private Placement"). The Company had obtained the approval from its shareholders at the last annual general meeting convened on 27 May 2013, whereby pursuant to Section 132D of the Act, the Board has been authorised to issue new OCK Shares provided that the number of new OCK Shares does not exceed 10% of the issued and paid-up share capital of the Company.

The 25,900,000 OCK Shares issued pursuant to the Previous Private Placement were listed on the ACE Market of Bursa Securities on 19 August 2013, marking the completion of the Previous Private Placement. At the issue price of RM0.47 per Share, the total proceeds raised from the Previous Private Placement were RM12.17 million.

The status of utilisation of funds from the Previous Private Placement is as follows:-

Purposes	Proposed utilisation RM'000	Actual utilisation as at the LPD RM'000	Balance unutilised as at the LPD RM'000	%
i. Working capital ^{*1} :-
- Expenses for regional expansion	5,000	2,257	2,743	22.5

^{*1} The timeframe for utilisation is within 12 months from the date of completion of the Previous Private Placement, i.e. by 18 August 2014.

In 2013, OCK Group had raised funds via the Previous Private Placement for the working capital requirements of OCK at the material time, which were mainly utilised for regional expansion and repayment to trade creditors and other creditors. The expenses for regional expansion of the Group were mainly incurred for the setting up of OCK operations overseas, namely Myanmar, Cambodia and the People's Republic of China, marketing expenses and working capital requirements of the overseas operations.

Meanwhile, OCK Group is currently undertaking the Proposed Private Placement mainly for business expansion (mainly for its existing business, which may include options such as acquisition of assets or companies which has synergistic benefits), repayment of borrowings and renovation costs. Save for the proceeds allocated for the repayment to trade creditors and suppliers under the working capital portion, the utilisation purposes of the Proposed Private Placement differs from the utilisation purposes of the Previous Private Placement. The Board had decided to undertake the additional fund-raising exercise mainly for business expansion in view of the favourable outlook of the telecommunication industry and renewable energy industry as set out in Sections 4.2 and 4.3 of this Circular. Further, as set out in Section 4.4 of this Circular, apart from focusing on the Group's telecommunication business, the Group is also sourcing for more business opportunities such as investing or as a contractor in the sustainable energy sector that is rapidly growing in demand.

3. RATIONALE AND JUSTIFICATIONS FOR THE PROPOSED PRIVATE PLACEMENT

After due consideration of various methods of fund raising, the Board is of the view that the Proposed Private Placement is the most appropriate avenue of fund raising as the Proposed Private Placement:-

- i. enables the Group to raise additional funds without having to incur interest expenses or service principal repayment as compared to conventional bank borrowings. This would allow the Company to preserve cash flow for reinvestment and/ or operational purpose;
- ii. enables the Group to have greater opportunity to grow its business at lower cost of fund, thereby generating greater returns from the investments;
- iii. is an expeditious way of raising funds from the capital market as opposed to other forms of fund raising such as a rights issue exercise; and
- iv. enables the Company to strengthen its equity base which in turn may potentially increase the liquidity and marketability of OCK Shares.

4. INDUSTRY OVERVIEW AND OUTLOOK AND FUTURE PROSPECTS OF OCK GROUP

OCK Group is principally involved in the following core businesses:-

- i. Provision of telecommunications network services which includes network planning, design and optimisation, network deployment, network operations and maintenance, energy management, infrastructure management and other professional services; and
- ii. Supply, installation and commissioning of green energy systems, focusing on solar power generation.

In addition, the Group is also involved in the provision of trading of telecommunications network materials and equipment, enterprise network security solutions, network security software for enterprise users as well as mechanical and electrical ("M&E") engineering services. Due to nature of the Group's core businesses, the Group's performance is closely dependent on the outlook of the telecommunication industry and the renewable energy industry, which have been set out in Sections 4.2 and 4.3 of this Circular, respectively.

4.1 Overview and outlook of the Malaysian economy

The Malaysian economy expanded by 4.7% in 2013, driven by the continued strong growth in domestic demand. Despite the weaker external environment in the first half of the year, domestic demand remained resilient throughout the year, led by robust private sector activity. Private consumption was supported mainly by favourable employment conditions and wage growth. Private investment was underpinned by capital spending in the mining, services and manufacturing sectors. The more moderate growth performance in 2013 was, to a large extent, attributable to developments in the external sector. Slower demand from the advanced and regional economies in the first half of the year contributed to the overall decline in real exports during the year. This was compounded by the continued expansion in real imports throughout 2013 arising from the sustained growth in domestic investment and consumption, which contributed to the contraction in net exports.

Private consumption growth remained strong at 7.6% in 2013, underpinned mainly by the favourable employment conditions and wage growth. Private consumption was also supported by Government transfers to low- and middle-income households and continued access to financing for creditworthy borrowers. Public consumption recorded a higher growth of 6.3% in 2013 due mainly to higher expenditure on supplies and services.

Although the pace of investment activity moderated from the exceptionally strong growth in 2012, it continued to be supported by private sector capital expenditure. Private investment continued to register double-digit growth of 13.6%, driven by capital spending by both the domestic and foreign investors in the mining, services and manufacturing sectors. Public investment recorded a small positive growth of 0.7%, following the decline in the Federal Government development expenditure. Nevertheless, this was offset by higher capital spending by the public enterprises, which was channelled mainly into the oil and gas, transportation and energy sectors.

From the supply perspective, the continued firm growth in domestic demand contributed to the expansion in the domestic-related activity in the services and manufacturing sectors during the year. The export-oriented industries in the manufacturing sector benefited from the improvement in external conditions in the second half of the year. The robust activity in the residential and civil engineering sub-sectors contributed to the continued strong growth of the construction sector.

The Malaysian economy is expected to remain on a steady growth path in 2014, expanding by 4.5%-5.5%. Domestic demand will remain the key driver of growth, albeit at a more moderate pace. Private investment is forecast to register robust growth for the fifth consecutive year, driven by the on-going implementation of multi-year projects and the improvement in external demand. Public investment is projected to register a higher growth, supported by both Government and public enterprise capital spending. Private consumption will be underpinned by healthy labour market conditions and sustained income growth. Public consumption is anticipated to record a lower growth due to the on-going fiscal consolidation.

On the supply side, all economic sectors are expected to register positive growth in 2014. The services and manufacturing sectors will be the key drivers to the overall growth, benefiting from the improvement in the global economic environment. The construction sector is expected to continue recording high growth, albeit at a more moderate pace, as the completion of several large civil engineering projects will more than offset the progress in existing projects in the transport, utility, and oil and gas sectors.

Notwithstanding the moderation in domestic demand, the underlying fundamentals of the Malaysian economy remain strong. Growth will be driven by the private sector across a diversified range of economic activities. Of importance, employment remains strong and incomes are rising. The financial system is resilient with financial intermediation expected to provide continued support to investment and consumption. The strength of Malaysia's external position also remains intact, with international reserves at healthy levels and external debt within prudent limits.

4.2 Overview and outlook of the telecommunication industry

The communication subsector remained strong registering a double-digit growth of 10.3% for the fourth quarter of 2013, following higher data usage in cellular, broadband and third-generation ("3G") services. As at end-December 2013, cellular phone subscriptions grew 3.9% to 43 million with a penetration rate of 143.6% supported by increased voice and data plans. In addition, 3G subscriptions grew 23.8% to 18 million on account of growing demand for Internet service. Meanwhile, broadband subscriptions rose 4.2% to 6.4 million with a household penetration rate of 67.1% spurred by the expansion in high-speed broadband ("HSBB") coverage and fourth-generation ("4G") long-term evolution ("LTE"). In addition, the number of wireless hotspot locations increased to 31,392 nationwide.

Government investment in network infrastructure and regulations has enabled businesses to grow and expand. Realising the potential and benefits of empowering small and medium enterprises and entrepreneurs through the internet so that they can innovate and grow, the Government has stepped up efforts in several initiatives as follows:-

- i. The Digital Malaysia Programme under the National Transformation Policy aims to create an ecosystem that promotes the pervasive use of digital technology in all aspects of the economy, and to provide platforms and programmes to nurture and grow users to generate revenue through digital business models;
- ii. Provision of RM24.5 million in grants to help fund content projects in mobile internet device and web platform. The Integrated Content Development by Multimedia Development Corporation ("MDeC") is a programme to engage, train and provide funding to the rakyat to produce high-quality local online content for global consumption;

- iii. Provision of tax incentive on capital expenditure incurred for broadband by the last-mile network facility providers, import duty and sales tax exemptions on broadband equipment and consumer access devices, and tax relief on broadband subscription;
- iv. Rollout of broadband infrastructure and network through the public-private partnership project of high-speed broadband with Telekom Malaysia Berhad;
- v. Provision of free WiFi in urban areas such as Kuala Lumpur, Penang and Miri; and
- vi. Establishment of community broadband centres and promotion of personal computer ownership for the underserved areas through the Universal Service Provision ("USP") project to enhance information and communication technology ("ICT") adoption in rural areas. As of end-August 2013, there were 35 1Malaysia Internet Centres ("PI1M") and 99 1Malaysia Library Broadband Centres located nationwide.

In a borderless world, information can be obtained instantaneously. Therefore the requisite infrastructure will be upgraded to meet consumer demand. Hence, the Government has implemented the HSBB project under the National Broadband Initiative. The collaboration with the private sector has involved investment of RM11.3 billion since the 9th Malaysia Plan. The HSBB project has been implemented with Internet access speed of 4 megabits per second ("Mbps") and benefiting 2.3 million premises, particularly in urban areas.

To expand coverage in major towns, the Government will implement the second phase of HSBB project in collaboration with the private sector involving an investment of RM1.8 billion. The initiative is expected to provide additional coverage and facilities mainly in urban areas, benefiting 2.8 million households nationwide. The Internet speed will be increased to 10 Mbps. The HSBB network will be expanded to suburban areas with an Internet access speed increasing to between 4 and 10 Mbps, which will benefit 2 million consumers at a cost of RM1.6 billion.

To increase Internet coverage in rural areas, 1,000 telecommunication transmission towers will be built over the next three (3) years, with an investment of RM1.5 billion. To increase Internet access in Sabah and Sarawak, new underwater cables will be laid within three (3) years, at a cost of RM850 million. These investments will utilise the USP Fund, which is under the purview of the Malaysia Communications and Multimedia Commission.

4.3 Overview and outlook of the renewable energy industry

Malaysia has entered into an era of renewable energy ("RE"). The implementation of Feed-in Tariff ("FiT") provides the much needed thrust for RE industry. Prior to 2011, RE has made little progress due mainly to a limited regulatory framework and RE market constraints, hence, lack of viable business model to generate RE and sustain businesses. FiT uses a dual approach: an incentive for RE producers to reduce long term risks and it allows the RE producers to generate returns on investments to ensure sustainability. Malaysia's power sector continues to face major challenges as the nation enters its phase of growth towards a high-income economy. The challenges include tightness in fuel supply, depleting fossil resources and volatile fossil fuel prices. This is further intensified by the low level of acceptance of nuclear energy and large-scale hydropower due to their potential environment hazards; and there is also the need to reduce carbon emissions to alleviate global warming. Reform initiatives are essential to ensure the power supply is adequate to support the nation's economic aspirations.

In the 8th Malaysia Plan (2001 – 2005), RE was identified as the nation's "fifth fuel" in the energy supply mix. There were initiatives taken by the Government, namely, Small Renewable Energy Power ("SREP") Programme, Biomass Power Generation and Demonstration ("BioGen") Project, Malaysia Building Integrated Photovoltaic Technology Application ("MBIPV"), Centre for Education and Training in Renewable Energy and Energy Efficiency ("CETREE") to promote RE utilisation. Despite these initiatives, RE constitutes less than 1% of the total energy supply mix in Peninsular Malaysia. Energy mix is still heavily reliant on fossil fuels, which contribute to more than 90% of the power generation fuel mix.

In line with the National Renewable Energy Policy and Action Plan ("RE Policy and Action Plan") which is the RE roadmap, Malaysia has enforced the Renewable Energy Act 2011 ("RE Act") and Sustainable Energy Development Authority Act 2011 ("SEDA Act") on 1 December 2011. While the RE Act focuses on RE development, Sustainable Energy Development Authority Malaysia ("SEDA") is the statutory body mandated under the SEDA Act to oversee the implementation and management of RE, including the FiT mechanism. One major component to determine the lifeline of FiT is the Renewable Energy Fund ("RE Fund").

(Source: Feed-in-Tariff and Renewable Energy Fund in brief, Parliament of Malaysia, October 2013)

The Malaysian Government since the 8th Malaysia Plan in 2001 has embedded renewable energy into the energy mix. The rationale for this is to increase the country's energy security, autonomy and to address climate change. This is in particular to reduce the country's dependency on fossil fuel and to utilize indigenous resources that are renewable. As such, the Government has implemented the SREP programme which spanned a decade concluding 2010. However, as at the end of 2010, the RE projects connected to the grid was only 61.2 megawatt ("MW").

To encourage the growth of RE in the country, the Ministry of Energy, Green Technology and Water ("KeTTHA") came out with the National RE Policy and Action Plan ("NREPAP") that was approved by the Cabinet on 2nd April 2010. The core framework of the NREPAP was centred on the implementation of the FiT which was introduced on 1st December 2011 in peninsular Malaysia whereby there is an additional charge of 1% to the electricity bills which goes to the RE fund to allow people to participate in the FiT programme. However, domestic electricity consumers with less than 300 kilowatt per hour ("kWh") consumption of electricity per month are exempted from such contribution.

Currently, the percentage of approved FiT projects is 2% of the total electricity generating capacity. This is based on 537.97 MW of RE capacity approved under the FiT with baseline of 27,179 MW of total electricity generating capacity in the country since 2010. The target is for RE to constitute 5% of the energy mix in 2015.

With the tariff review effective Jan 1, 2014, the FiT will also include the state of Sabah and Federal Territory of Labuan. The contribution into the RE fund has also been revised to 1.6% for all participating states to increase the fund for renewable energy.

(Source: Statement by Minister of Energy, Green Technology and Water, Datuk Seri Panglima Dr. Maximus Ongkili, on the Feed-in-Tariff Quota, 1 April 2014)

Entry Point Project ("EPP") 10: Building Up Renewable Energy and Solar Power Capacity under the Government's Economic Transformation Programme aims to harness renewable energy as a viable alternative to reduce Malaysia's reliance on fossil fuels, minimise carbon emissions, encourage job creation, and spur foreign direct investments. The 10th Malaysia Plan targets for renewable energy to account for 5% of the total capacity mix in 2015 (it is currently less than 1% of the country's mix). Under the National Renewable Energy Policy, solar power should contribute a minimum of 220MW to the total capacity mix. SEDA Malaysia targets a cumulative installed renewable energy capacity of 450.64MW by the first half of 2014.

(Source: Economic Transformation Programme, Performance Management & Delivery Unit (PEMANDU), Malaysia)

Come 2 May 2014, a quota of an additional 65MW of RE will be up for grabs for parties wanting to produce this under the FiT programme for 2014. The quota for 2015 is being increased to 109MW. Of the 65MW total RE quota of 2014, more than half of the allocation is for solar photovoltaic. Biogas and biomass would be allocated 10MW and 15MW respectively for 2014. SEDA has also announced that the RE quota for 2016 will be 190MW while for 2017 it will be 196MW.

4.4 Future prospects of OCK Group

Major telecommunications companies which were awarded LTE – 4G/ 2,600MHz spectrum by the Malaysian Communications and Multimedia Commission ("MCMC") in the year 2012 have begun investing in upgrading their equipment and infrastructures to accommodate the rising usage of data under the current 3G/ 4G environment. These major companies have started the implementation of their 4G (LTE) services in year 2013 and are expected to continue investing and developing 3G High Speed Packet Access (HSPA)+ sites in addition to further expanding their LTE coverage to other parts of Malaysia in the near future. As set out in Section 4.2 of this Circular, in accordance with the announcement of the Budget 2014 plan, the Government has implemented the HSBB project under the National Broadband Initiative. The Government will implement the second phase of HSBB in collaboration with the private sector involving RM1.8 billion in investments which will benefit approximately 2.8 million households by providing more coverage to urban areas. The Government has also allocated plans to build 1,000 new telecommunications towers in Malaysia over the next three (3) years. Furthermore, the Group's regional telecommunication engineering services operations in Cambodia, Myanmar and the People's Republic of China and the Group's telecommunication infrastructure leasing business will continue to grow during this FYE 31 December 2014.

Apart from focusing on the Group's telecommunication business, the Group is also sourcing for more business opportunities such as investing or as a contractor in sustainable energy sector that is rapidly growing in demand. SEDA releases quotas for solar energy under the FiT programme annually. Therefore, involvement in renewable energy such as solar energy will bring forth an increase in additional values in terms of monetary, corporate image and corporate social responsibility value. Furthermore, the Group's first solar farm project (1MW) in Tok Bali, Kelantan have also been completed and commenced contribution of earnings in the previous fourth quarter of FYE 31 December 2013. The cost of the said solar farm project was approximately RM10.00 million (inclusive of the land) and the project was energised in end of September 2013. Meanwhile, the Group's credentials as an engineering, procurement and construction ("EPC") sub-contractor for the KLIA 10MW Car Porch Project, which was energised at the end of December 2013, would allow the Group the opportunity to seek for projects in this sustainable energy sector. The said Car Porch Project involved mainly designing, engineering, procurement, supply and install, inspection, testing and commissioning of the solar photovoltaic system. The total contract value with variation orders amounted to approximately RM27.80 million for the said project.

In view of the above, the Board believes that the prospect of the Group is favourable after having considered all the relevant aspects including the outlook of the related industries above which are closely linked to the Group's business performance.
